

Health in a Borderless World
Fulbright New Century Scholars Program (NCS)
Rockefeller Foundation Bellagio Study and Conference Center
Bellagio, Italy
October 29 – November 2, 2001
Orientation and Goal Setting

MONDAY, October 29, 2001

Arrivals during the day and evening

Upon arrival scholars receive resource packages with detailed program and reading materials.

7.30p.m.

Welcome and introduction speeches during dinner -After dinner there is opportunity to socialize.

TUESDAY, October 30, 2001

8:00 – 9:00a.m. Breakfast

9.00 - 9.30a.m. Introduction to NCS and welcome by Dr. Patti McGill Peterson, Executive Director, Council for International Exchange of Scholars and Vice President, Institute of International Education and Mr. Barry Ballow, Office Director, Office of Academic Exchange Programs, Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs, US Dept. of State.

9.30 - 10.30a.m. Introduction by Dr. Ilona Kickbusch, Yale University, Distinguished Scholar Leader: “Health in a Borderless World: New Century Scholars Program Focus and Challenges”
Briefing on what we hope to achieve during the Bellagio orientation session, followed by discussion.

10.30 - 11.00a.m. Coffee break

11.00 - 12.30p.m. Theme: Social Ingenuity
Introduction by Thomas Homer Dixon, University of Toronto, followed by discussion.

1:00p.m. Lunch

2.30 - 3.30p.m. Group discussions around social ingenuity: What innovation could/would/should the NCS program hope to achieve?
Affinity groups will be proposed.

- 3.30 – 4.00p.m. Break
- 4.00 - 5.30p.m. Plenary discussions: The social ingenuity dimension of NCS:
How can it be fostered and strengthened? What support systems do we need to establish? How can the NCS program be more than the sum of its parts? What are participant's expectations?
- 6:00 – 7:00p.m. Short presentations of NCS scholars individual research
- 7. 30p.m Dinner

WEDNESDAY, October 31, 2001

- 8:00 – 9:00a.m. Breakfast
- 9.00 - 10.30a.m. Theme: Research as an Instrument for Social Development and Social Change
Introduction by Yvo Nuyens, Former Coordinator of COHRED
- 10:30 – 11:00a.m. Coffee Break
- 11.00 - 12.30p.m. Group discussions on how the NCS program can take into account the experiences gained in linking social development and research activities – particularly with a view to the increasing discussions on the impact of globalization of health.
What specifically could the NCS program contribute to further developing the field of global health studies? What would this mean for how we conduct the program and how we plan for the final conference?
- 1:00p.m. Lunch
- 2.30 - 4.00p.m. Affinity groups proposed by NCS scholars
- 4.00 – 4.30p.m. Break
- 4.30 - 5.30p.m. Plenary to revisiting the social ingenuity theme in light of the day's discussion in order to define the "core " of the NCS effort:
What outcome would we want to see after one year's work?
To what extent could the NCS program be the nucleus of something else?
- 6.00 – 7.00p.m. short presentations of NCS scholars individual research
- 7.30pm – Dinner

THURSDAY, November 1, 2001

- 8.00 – 9.00a.m. Breakfast
- 9.00 - 10.30a.m. Theme: Addressing the power of definition in global health: local and global knowledge.
Introduction by Indu Capoor, CHETNA, India
- 10.30 – 11.00a.m. Coffee Break
- 11.00 - 12.30p.m. Group Discussions: How do we ensure that NCS has a truly global perspective?
- 1.00p.m. Lunch
- 2.30 - 4.00p.m. Group discussions around themes related to the process and outcomes of the NCS program: Communication during the year, mid term seminar, cross cutting themes and discussions groups, final outcome, sustainability and long term plans. (Other themes might emerge during the week.)
- 4.00 – 4.30p.m. Break
- 4.30 - 6.00p.m. Plenary discussion with recommendations for process and management of NCS during the year, recommendations on sustainability
- 7.30p.m. Dinner

FRIDAY, November 2, 2001

Opportunities for further discussions depending on departure schedules of participants.